

2017 August 22 – AHRQ Articles

Read WHA's News Release: <http://bit.ly/2w15P60>

Article #1: Wisconsin health care best in the nation

By: Staff | News8000 | August 22, 2017

MADISON, Wis. (WKBT) - For the second time in a month, Wisconsin health care receives top honors, according to a release from the Wisconsin Hospital Association, Inc.

###

Article #2: Wisconsin healthcare system ranked best in the country

By: Troy Neumann | News8000 | August 23, 2017

LA CROSSE, Wis. (WKBT) - Wisconsin's healthcare system is ranked as the best in the country. The announcement comes from a study released by the federal Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality Tuesday.

###

Federal Report Ranks Wisconsin No. 1 In Health Care Quality

By: Shamane Mills | WPR | August 22, 2017

A federal agency tracking the quality of health care in doctor's offices, hospitals and nursing homes says Wisconsin is doing better than all 50 states, followed closely by Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Listen here: <http://www.wpr.org/listen/1150141>

###

Wisconsin has best health care quality in the nation, federal agency says

By: David Wahlberg | Wisconsin State Journal | August 22, 2017

Wisconsin has the best health care quality in the country, based on a ranking of 130 measures by the federal Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, the Wisconsin Hospital Association said Tuesday.

###

Wisconsin not just Top 10 again, but No. 1 in health care

By: Drew Kelly | WIZM 1410 | August 22, 2017

State hasn't been off Top 10 since report started in 2007. When it comes to overall health care, Wisconsin is No. 1.

###

Federal Agency Ranks Wisconsin Tops for Healthcare quality

By: Wisconsin Health News | August 22, 2017

Wisconsin ranked top in the nation in overall healthcare quality, according to rankings released by the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality.

The state ranked third last year. This year, Wisconsin narrowly beat Massachusetts on the agency's meter score for all measures.

Wisconsin ranked high on overall performance but still has some work to when it comes to healthcare equity, according to the Wisconsin Hospital Association.

"We know as we improve quality, we reduce healthcare costs and patient outcomes are better," WHA CEO Eric Borgerding said in a Tuesday statement. "That helps ensure that Wisconsin will continue to be known for high-quality, high-value care, which is an economic development asset in every part of the state."

###

Wisconsin health care best in the nation | Column

By: Cathie Kocourek | Herald Times Reporter | August 25, 2017

Wisconsin is No. 1 when it comes to health care quality in the country. That's the finding of the most recent report published by the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, a division within the Department of Health and Human Services, whose self-described mission is to "produce evidence to make health care safer, of higher quality, more accessible, equitable and affordable."

###

Report Ranks Wisconsin No. 1 In Health Care Quality

By: Staff | Door County Pulse | August 25, 2017

A federal agency tracking the quality of health care in doctor's offices, hospitals and nursing homes says Wisconsin is doing better than all 50 states, followed closely by Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

###